

International Higher Education Forum 2021

ONLINE EVENT

Higher Education worldwide is changing, and institutions are encountering challenges when adapting to the new reality and preparing for an unclear and potentially unfamiliar post COVID environment. 2020 has accelerated some of these changes, introduced new obstacles and exposed needs that were not specifically considered before.

Education Institutions are now tackling a number of issues around student migration and recruitment, the learning environment and virtual education, internationalization and employability. The question is, how do Higher Education Institutions continue to stay relevant, adapt to an ever-evolving world, address the requirements of modern students as future professionals and international citizens against a backdrop of an ever increasingly competitive ecosystem.

We at Pearson, the world's leading learning company, are happy to invite you to take part in International Higher Education Forum 2021. During the Forum we will address the issues head on and explore potential solutions. Plenary sessions and presentations will be imparted by noted thought leaders and experts in their fields, who will draw from academic research papers, case studies and success stories.

The conference will take place online 9th-11th March 2021 and will be divided into 5 main topic blocks.
